Mrs. Alice Lucas, director.

Three girls from Ohio--Hilda, Irene, and Jenny--arrive in New York eager to begin new careers. Long on hope and short on money, the girls are forced to rent a gloomy apartment from a money-hungry landlady named Mrs. Malone. But not only is the apartment gloomy--it has a mysterious closet which is frequently visited by shadowy figures. Strange neighbors add to the excitement--particularly Mr. Rosewater, a "modern" poet whose upstairs apartment is filled with clanking, clattering, and banging. The first night in the apartment is a terrifying experience, but the girls manage to survive. Jenny, however, is so sorried that she hires a burly taxi-driver named Hercules to be their bodyguard. And Irene's fiance George insists that he, too, will stay in the apartment to protect the girls. At first, Hercules's brawn and George's brain seem certain to clash. Suspicious Mrs. Malone finally calls in Officer Sweeney, but he really isn't needed. For with Hercules's strength and George's wit, the mystery of the closet is solved and the culprits are caught. At last the girls from Ohio can live in peace in their New York apartment.

Senior Plays— We Wrote Our Own

#1—Sock It to Me

On May 15 and 16, the Senior Class presented three original one-act plays written by the senior rhetoric class. The first, "Sock It To Me," was written by Gail Finley, Debbie Hall, Debbie Miller, Jill Muffler, Karen Pitstick, Patti Scofield, and Donna Selvig. The students of a typical high school, forced to wear white socks to combat athlete's foot, decide to fight the administration. In the course of the play, young Lisa Andrews experiences her first love. But the epidemic and the romance finally end, as Lisa falls for an older man--the principal.

#2—Where There's a Will, There's a Way

The second play, "Where There's a Will, There's a Way," was written by Larry Foreman, Kris Kestila, Kathy Kyle, Sue McCullough, George Yuhas, Vince Whalen and Frank Hershey. The play, which combines elements of comedy and theater of the absurd, concerns the story of a "young girl gone wrong." Betsy Washburn rebels against her parents when she brings home her college roommate--John Birch. But her grandfather's will demands that all family differences be resolved; so Betsy gives up John and brings another guest home to dinner.

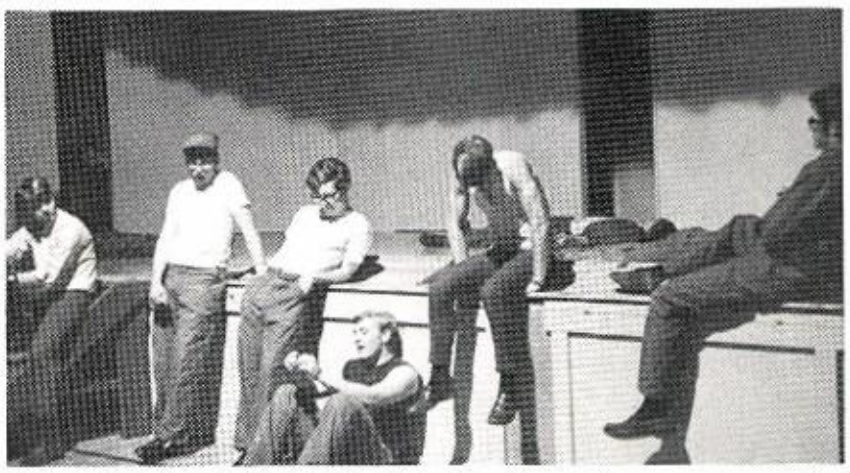
#3—Cum Spiro Spirabo

Don	Don Rabe
Jesse	Don Tonielli
Harvey	Phil Brown
Jim	Kevin Wiley
Jock	Steve Pitstick
Wrestler	Dave Muncy
Rachel	Patti Scofield
Laura	Linda Gaudi
Dead Soldiers	Bill Stechman, Mort Brooks, John Butterfield, Guy Mathesius
Technical Director	Ray Stockley
Asst. Tech. Director	Frank Hershey
Director	Mr. A. H. Anderson

"Cum Spiro Spirabo" was written by Phil Brown, Tim Hanley, Dave Muncy, Don Rabe, Ray Stockley, Chris Zombres, Wayne Nelson, and Rick Williamson. The play concerns the tragedy of war and the loss of friends. Five friends, graduating from high school together, join the army and are sent overseas to fight. Jim, who finds his four friends dead on the battlefield, recalls his high school experiences and can only ask "Why?" As he wanders on the field, a mine explodes--and the war claims the life of another friend.



"Who's to say we'll ever get back?"

"While I breathe, I hope."

Greg and Sue welcome Larry and Janet.

"What's going on back there?"

On May 9, the junior class entertained the seniors at the 1970 Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet, held at the Aurora Holiday Inn.
Following the banquet, junior class president, Tim Woods, welcomed the seniors. After the welcome speech, Larry Foreman gave the reply on behalf of the senior class. The juniors then continued the program with the reading of the will and prophecy.
The theme of the prom, "Camelot," was carried out in decorations of swords and shields. Underclassmen attendants, Sue Matison and Greg Hitchins, were attired in the dress of King Arthur's time. Musical numbers on the program included songs from the Broadway show, "Camelot."
Following the program and dancing, the couples saw Gary Baker and Connie Johnson crowned King and Queen of the 1970 Prom.

Fall Baseball Strikes Out

The fall of 1969 proved to be a cold season for the Serena baseball team. A lack of experienced players plagued the team, which finished its season with a disappointing record of three wins and eleven losses. Kim Nelson and George Yuhas led the team with the highest batting averages. Several promising underclassmen, including Greg Hitchins, Rick Battles, and Paul Finley, should make the next few seasons interesting.

Georgie goes a-bunting!

Cross Country— Keep On Running!

One and nine-tenths miles to run. This is the assignment of the cross country runners, coached by Mr. James Trout. Though no longer a forgotten sport at Serena, cross country had a weak season due to inexperience. However, the strong point came when Frank Hershey, who consistently led the team, went on to take fourth place in the conference.

Frank Hershey, Ray Teske, Brian Woods, Dave Skelton, Bill Stechman, and Steve Pitstick.

Wrestlers Are Weight Watchers

With a season of experience under their belts, the Serena "grapplers" entered the 1969-70 season with high hopes and an urge to win. Injuries hampered Mick Pfau and Frank Hershey while Larry Foreman suffered a pre-season broken ankle. Steve Pitstick and Frank Hershey led the team with records of 18--2 and 12--2, respectively. Bill Stechman, Steve Pitstick, and Mark Matson each took first place in their classes at the Braidwood Tournament. Serena can look forward to good years ahead with freshmen Scott Hoxsey, David Rohrer, Ken Thompson, and Bill Hardy, and sophomores John Miner and Mike Marshall, along with regulars Bill Stechman, Mick Pfau, and Lee Hershey.

Coach Norman Heuges

Coach Norman Neuges's junior varsity team finished the 1969-70 basketball season with a record of seven wins and twelve losses, ranking fifth in the Little Ten Conference. Freshmen Mike Bartels, Paul Finley, and Mark Allen and sophomores Greg Hitchins, Jim Blanton, and Jerry Huss saw action on the courts for most of the season. Gaining experience, the team showed much improvement during the second half of the year. In addition, the freshman team--paced by Finley, Bartels, Allen, Brad Bristol, Scott Shockley, and Dave Skelton--finished the year with an eleven and four mark. So prospects for the coming 1970-71 season look bright for the JV's.

Coach Gene Salmons

Plagued by lack of experience, the Serena Huskers varsity team spent the 1969-70 season rebuilding. They finished the year with a disappointing record of four wins and twenty losses; but Coach Gene Salmons, in his first year at Serena, found several promising underclassmen who should make future seasons exciting. Freshmen Mike Bartels and Paul Finley saw action as substitutes on the varsity team; and Rick Battles, a sophomore, was a regular on the starting five. These players, together with juniors Jerry McLachlan, Bill Matison, Kim Nelson, Mark Wright, Dave Stafford, and Darrell Thompson, should make the 1970-71 season an interesting one.

Golfers Swing Into 1970

Under the coaching of Norman Neuges, the SHS golf finished its fourth season with a record of five wins and seven losses. The most consistent member of the team was senior George Yuhas, who was leading linksman of the team for three years. The team placed fourteenth in the district and finished the season in sixth place in the Little Ten Conference.

Spring Track Takes On a New Shape

Spring track is no longer an all-male sport at Serena. With the addition of a girls' track team, Coach Gene Salmons and Sandra Cheesman worked to rebuild the track team for next year. Characteristic of track in 1970, Ray Stockley broke the record for high hurdles, yet still placed second.

Student Council:

Action Through Responsibility

Meetings, petitions, and responsibility are all part of the Student Council. Being representatives of student opinion, the Student Council members work to improve the atmosphere of the high school through democratic means and by increasing student-teacher understanding. By channeling student petitions, the Student Council helped to bring about experiments in dress code reform and in senior responsibility.

M.C.C.:

Exploring Medicine

Surgery waits, a newborn baby cries, a hydrophobic puppy, the dread of a malignant tumor, or the traumas of a Mongoloid child all deserve a cure from the medical field. In a small way the Medical Careers Club members try to understand the needs of the sick. In visiting numerous hospitals and institutions, they are exposed to the needs of the less fortunate. These students have a future ahead of them to explore the expanding horizons of medicine and to find a cure for the now incurable. Even though love is an asset to the field of medicine, care is no cure.

Learning To Teach

Chalkboards, erasers, textbooks, and papers to be graded--the teaching profession is a challenging one. Members of the Future Teachers' Organization are given an opportunity to discover whether or not they are suited to be teachers. Through field trips and special programs they are exposed to the type of education and personality they need, to be successful in the profession. Each year, they also honor an SHS faculty member as the Teacher of the Year.

Le Cercle Francais:

Parler, Lire, Ecrire

The French language--with its past and present tenses, masculine and feminine gender, and rules of grammar--is familiar to members of Le Cercle Francais who have studied it during their years at SHS. Membership in the club gives students an opportunity to learn more about "le francais" and to participate in field trips and social activities. During the year 1969-70, Le Cercle Francais joined FTO and MCC for a roller skating party.

Student Librarians

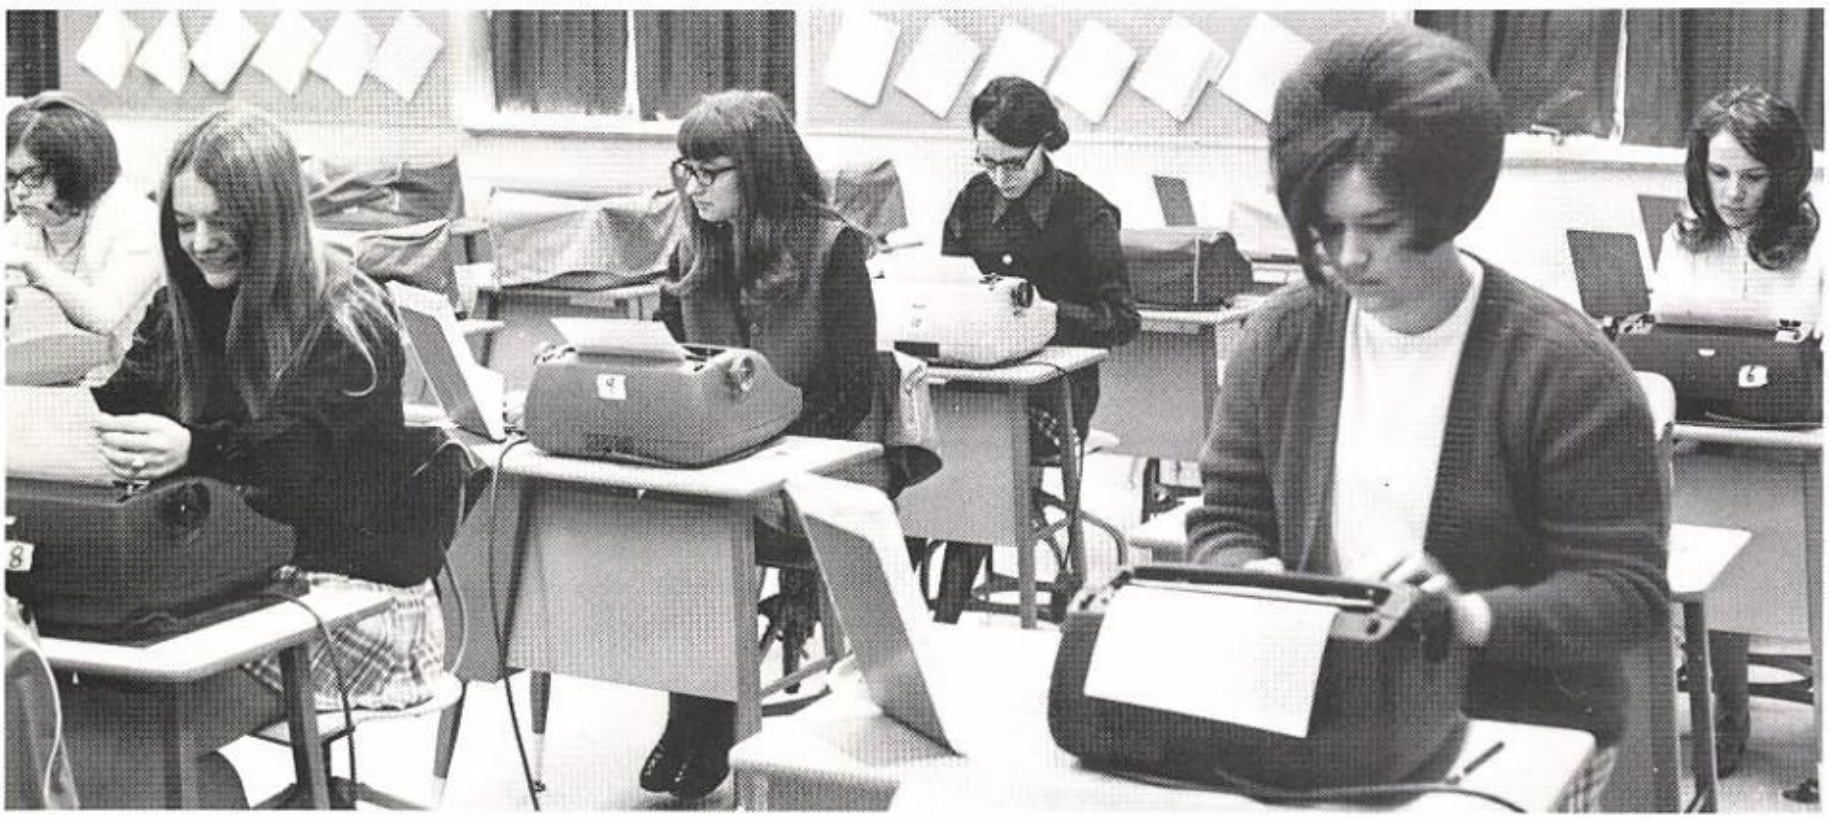
Keeping the library in order is left up to the student librarians, under Mrs. Anfinsen's direction. Checking books in and out, collecting fines, and decorating the library showcase are only a few of the numerous jobs of the SHS librarians.

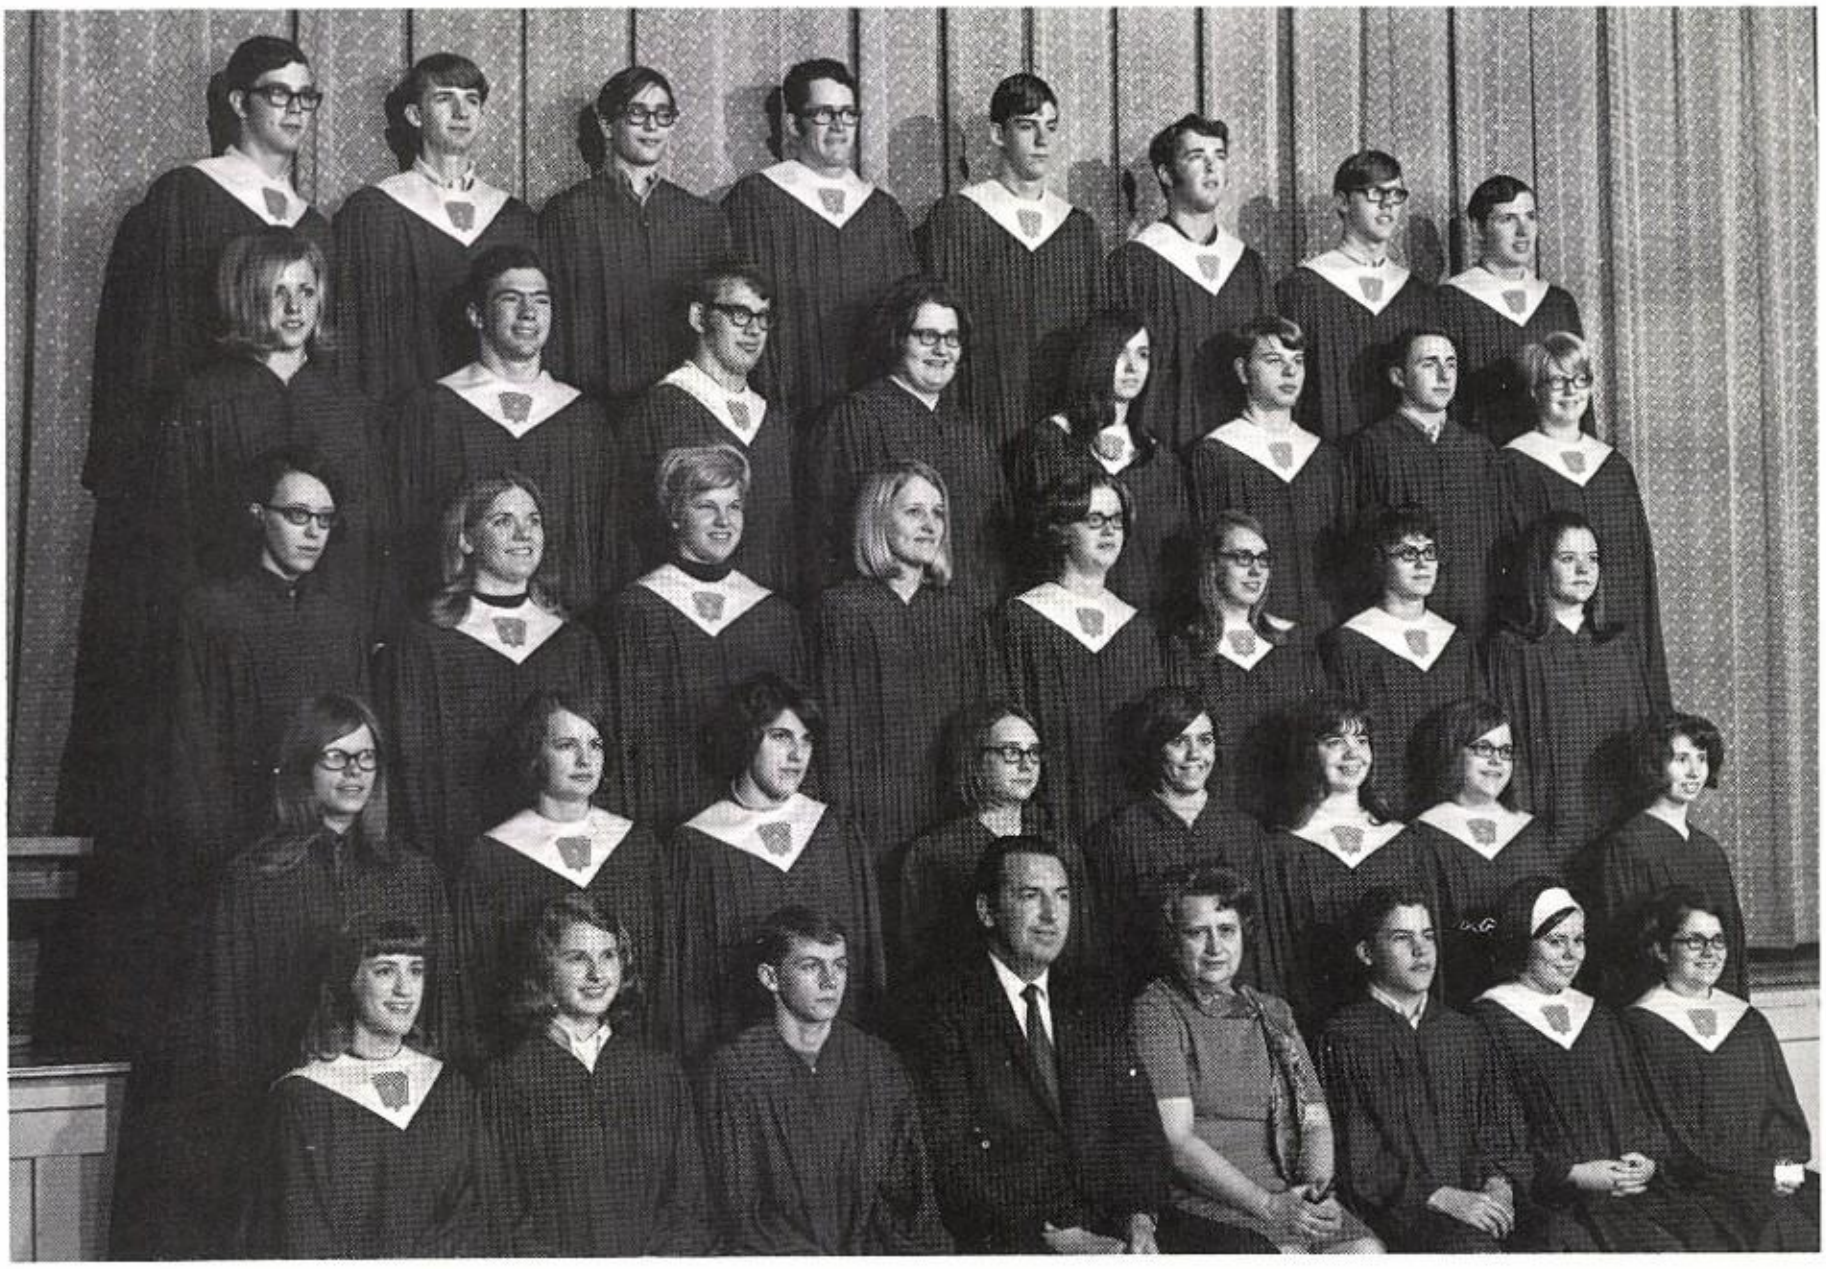
Ella lends Terri a helping hand.

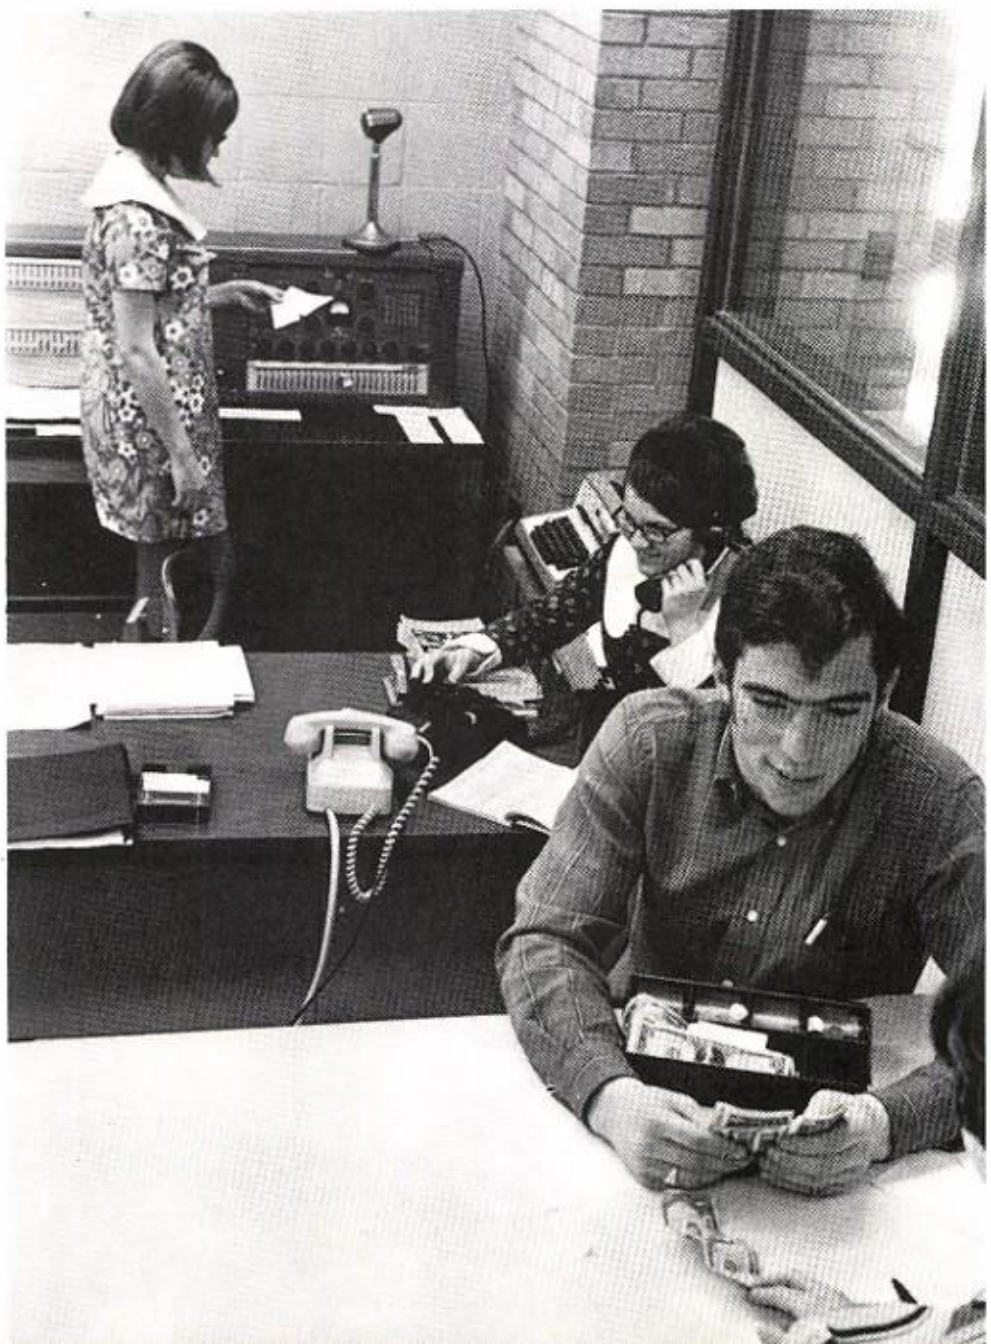
Student Secretaries

Typing paper, erasers, masters, and razor blades--these are the tools of the student secretaries. Business students, past and present, volunteer their skill and free modules to assist teachers with work they need done.

Student secretaries put in a hard day's work at the "office".







N.H.S.:

Noblesse Oblige

"Character, scholarship, leadership, and service"--members of the National Honor Society are chosen on the basis of these qualities. In working for the school and serving the community, the NHS members demonstrate these characteristics. During the 1970 school year, the NHS donated money to The Open Door and Friendship House and conducted the annual Easter Seal drive in Serena Township. Members also provided volunteer help in the SHS administrative office.

Chapter projects this year included a visit to the Farm Progress Show, the annual pure-bred boar and gilt sale, co-sponsoring of the Sweetheart Ball, the annual Parent-Son Banquet, and participation in many Section VII contests. The Serena chapter received first place in the sectional Program of Work contest; the livestock judging team won first place at the sectional level--Gary Baker was the highest individual scorer of the day; Wayne Nelson received first place in the extemporaneous division of the public speaking contest; the parliamentary procedure team took third place, with Gary Baker receiving honors for being the top secretary of the contest; the soil judging team took fourth place with two members in the top ten. The chapter dairy team, Gary Baker, and Jerry Huss also placed in events at the state-wide level. Other special honors received this year follow: Vince Whalen, Duane Tuntland, and Kevin Wiley were accepted for the State Farmer Degree; Wayne Nelson served as Section VII President; and Debbie Miller was chosen Section VII Sweetheart.

Toward New Horizons

"We are the Future Homemakers of America. We face the future with warm courage and high hopes . . . For we are the builders of homes. Homes for America's future." Through its projects and activities, the seventy-five members of FHA attempted to fulfill the goals of their organization--"to help individuals improve personal, family, and community living, now and in the future." In conjunction with the Serena chapter's 1969-70 theme, "Make Time Work For You," several talented people from the community visited meetings and demonstrated their hobbies. FHA members served their community by sending food to area Viet Nam soldiers and conducting the cerebral palsy drive. "We are the Future Homemakers of America. We face the future with warm courage and high hope. For we are the builders of homes. Homes for America's future.

Car Safety Club:

Buckle Up for Safety

With the increase in number of student cars and drivers, the Car Safety Club organized during the '69-'70 year. Though inactive, the club was a reminder of the hazards to be met on the roads. Many members would have had trouble finding the gas cap or the radiator, but the Car Safety Club was new and a challenge to remember drivers' education.

Chorus—
Lake of the Ozarks or Bust

The Serena High School Chorus spent a busy year preparing for its first summer tour. Mrs. Fagot, director, and Mr. Anderson, tour manager, arranged a week-long trip to Lake of the Ozarks in Missouri. To help prepare for the concert tour, the choir attended a winter workshop at Illinois State University and presented spring concerts for area grade school pupils. In April, the chorus participated in Class C contest at Genoa and earned a superior rating in both performance and sight reading. Two choir members, Chris Zombres and Rollin Varness, were chosen to be members of the 1970 Illinois All-State Chorus. Other juniors and seniors, together with many underclassmen, made 1970 a "record year" for the SHS Chorus.

Freshmen Enjoy First Year at SHS

Stumbling into class five minutes late, obeying the orders of the upperclassmen, giggling about that cute senior boy in study hall--all are part of the freshman year. Of course, the class of '73 was no exception. Eighty-seven freshmen walked through the doors of Serena High School in August to meet many new people and have many new experiences. High school was a little frightening at first--so much homework, so many new faces. But the new friends and activities made it all seem worthwhile. The end of the year came quickly and found the freshmen well adjusted to life in high school. Class-sponsored activities included bake sales and a coat check.

Sophomores Receive Class Rings

With their freshman year behind them, the sophomores returned to SHS ready for another year of classes and extracurricular activities. That first experience behind the wheel of the driver education car was a highlight of the year for many of the sophomores. Seatbelts, shoulder harnesses, stop signs, and icy roads--but somehow Mr. Ziegler and his students managed to survive. Class rings were another highlight of the year for the class of '72. The students chose the style and colors in September and waited anxiously until November when they were delivered. During the year, a "pizza day" and bake sales added funds to the class treasury.

Juniors Work for Prom

In August, seventy-eight juniors entered SHS as upperclassmen for the first time. The junior year was a busy for the class of '71. Students participated in money-making projects and joined committees, all in anticipation of the annual Junior-Senior Prom in May. As usual, the treasury seemed short of funds when the year began. Frustrated seniors wondered if there would really be a prom at all. But as usual, the treasury grew and the prom was a success. The first three years at SHS passed quickly for the junior class. With only their senior year left, the juniors could already look forward to their future after high school.

Annual Staff '70:

Flashback Shatters Old Traditions

Our revels now are ended: these our actors . . . we're all spirits, and are melted into air, into thin air . . .

Flashback '70 was made so that memories of the good and bad times could never pass into thin air. Summer workshop at NIU in 1969 prepared us to try to make a realistic, original, and personal yearbook. Countless hours were spent to produce a book with meaning. Along the way, we must thank Mr. Wayne Chandler of Mayfair Studios for his photographic work, Mr. A. H. Anderson for his candid pictures, Charla Zombres and Frank Hershey for their help when it was needed, and Mrs. Anfinsen for her help and understanding. For our thoughts toward this book, we quote William Shakespeare:

We are such stuff as dreams are made on; and our little life is rounded with sleep . . .

If we shadows have offended,
Think but this, and all is mended--
That you have but slumbered here
While these visions did appear.
And this weak and idle theme,
No more yielding than a dream . . .

Senior Thoughts on Life at SHS

Four years at SHS. All done. Finished. The classes, the Prom, the tests, the good times—all are done. Even if I can't remember the day the Versailles Treaty was signed or how to find the length of the third side of the triangle, I'll always have memories. All the kids I knew—my friends, and those who weren't so friendly—all are in my memory. The greatest part of all was being a senior, having Senior Privilege Pass, and learning to know and understand people. As the words say in Paul Simon's song, "Bridge Over Troubled Water," someone was there "to ease my mind." If there is any tragedy in being a senior, it's that you just now learn to know other people so much better; and then graduation splits you all up. Four years. All done. Finished.

Farewell '70—

We Have Learned . . .
We Have Enjoyed . . .
We Are Part of the Future.
